Regius is an independent Christian school for P1-S2 children, situated close to Edinburgh's Newcraighall station. Based Christian values, it has a vision of providing 'Christian education to transform a generation'.

Small class sizes enable children to learn at a pace that is right for them. Each child's unique abilities are recognised and developed within a caring and inspirational environment.

Regius children often successfully move into other Edinburgh independent schools at secondary level.

As well as focussing on educational excellence, Regius values worship and prayer and underpins everything with a culture of honour. Worship is incorporated into the curriculum through expressions such as prayer, song, dance, and creativity.
